

The Growing Entrepreneurs

The “Growing Entrepreneurs” program is a program for high school students (freshmen through juniors) run by the New Haven Land Trust. The New Haven Land Trust is an environmental nonprofit in New Haven that manages community gardens and nature preserves. We are excited to offer five New Haven high school students the opportunity to join the program in January, 2018.

What is the program all about?

The program teaches 5 different types of skills: entrepreneurial skills, professional skills, carpentry and gardening skills, character skills, and knowledge of environmental issues. If you have an interest in these areas and are passionate about hard work and helping your community we want you to join the team!

Where is the program held?

We work at a variety of work sites around the city of New Haven. However, we normally meet at Grand Acres community garden at 47 Grand Avenue. Participants need to have their own transportation to get to Grand Avenue. From there, we move around the city in a pickup truck.

Is this a “job” or an “extracurricular activity”?

Both! As a Growing Entrepreneur you will get paid minimum wage ($11/hour) for eight hours a week. You will also earn commission from the profits of your business ventures. A typical week could include building raised garden beds for a community garden, tending to the Growing Entrepreneurs garden and harvesting produce from this garden to sell, and working on developing your individual business venture.

What about the summer?

In January, all Growing Entrepreneurs need to go through the process of applying for Youth@Work. During the five weeks of Youth@Work in the summer we work 25 hours a week. This is an exciting time to get individual business ventures rolling and to take on some bigger construction projects for the Land Trust.
